ROSALIE THE PRAIRIE FLOWER.

WURZEL. (G. F. R.)

Moderato.

VOICE.

GUITAR.

On the distant prai - rie, Where the heather wild In its qui - et beau - ty
On that distant prai - rie, When the days were long, Tripping like a fai - - ry,
But the summer fa - ded, And a childly blast, O'er that happy cot - - tage lived and smiled, Stands a lit - tle cot - tage, And a greeping vine sweet her song With the sun - ny blos - soms And the birds at play, swept at last When the autums song birds Woke the dewy morn,

Loves around its porch to twine; In that peaceful dwelling
Beautiful and bright as they; When the twilight shadows Lit_tle prairie flower was gone! For the an_gels whispered was a love_ly child, With her blue eyes beaming soft and mild, gathered in the west, And the voice of na__ture sunk to rest, softly in her ear, "Child thy Father calls thee stay not here."

And the wavy ringlets of her flaxon hair, Floating in the summer air.
Like a cherub kneeling seemed the lovely child, With her gentle eyes so mild.
And they gentle bore her, robed in spotless white, To their blissful home of light.

CHORUS.

AIR.

V. 1. Fair as a li ly, joyous and free, Light of that prairie home was she.

ALTO.

V. 2. Fair as a li ly, joyous and free, Light of that prairie home was she.

TENOR.

V. 3. Though we shall never look on her more, Gone with the love and joy she bore.

BASS.

GUITAR.

Every one who knew her, felt the gentle power of Rosalie the prairie flower.

Every one who knew her, felt the gentle power of Rosalie the prairie flower.

Far away she's blooming, in a fadeless bower, sweet Rosalie the prairie flower.
